

Electric Fryer Thermostat with Dial

Model Number: 2057F

This is a thermostat designed to control the temperature in electric frying equipment. 200°-400° F temperature range.

How it works:

A variation in temperature causes the sensing element to dilate or contract the fluid (in this case oil) contained inside the capillary tube. This dilation or contraction of the fluid creates a diaphragm expansion or contraction movements triggering the electrical contact mechanism that open or close the circuit under control.

Observations: This thermostat can not be used as assurance equipment, only as control.

Note:

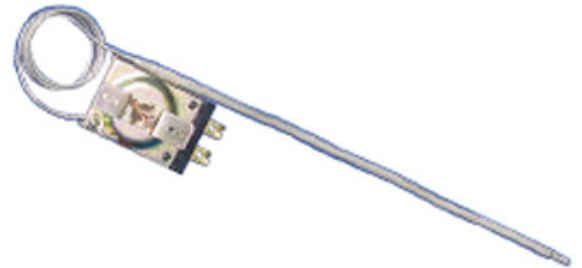

We have a large inventory of replacement parts for Abmaster; we stock replacement parts for similar equipment.
